

The Beishuiwan Bridge in Jiading's Juyuan New Area is stunning. The lights and reflections on the lake create a captivating sight, like two curving harps playing in harmony. — Zhang Daiyi

A calm lake surface, glass curtain walls, and rainwater ponds ... Behind the mirror images lies another parallel world. The city seems to extend with reflections. What does Jiading look like in these mirror images? Let's check it out from the opposite perspective.

The Poly Grand Theater's superior acoustics add to the unforgettable experience. Whether it is music or architecture, the theater serves as a timeless example of art, design and beauty. — Zhou Xiaoping

Mirror images: Reflections from opposite perspective

The Shanghai International Circuit in Jiading is home to some thrilling motorsport events. The reflections of the crowd are mirrored in the clear blue water on a wet day as race cars zoom by. — Jiang Yichao

The mist rising above the serene lake highlights the charm of the Guyi Garden. With its fusion of history and nature, this tranquil oasis is a testament to the artistic aesthetics of ancient China and the enduring appeal of its classic gardens. — Zhang Chenghao